Introduction- Trees are very important for all the living organisms on Earth. They are an important part of our ecosystem. They help in maintaining the balance of our nature. Without trees, our Earth will get destroyed within few seconds. Trees provides us oxygen because of which we exist on this Earth. They provide us food, timber, etc. Trees reduces the effects of global warming, pollution and many natural calamities. Trees are very precious as they serves as habitat for many animals. So, it is rightly said that trees are green gold of our country.

Value of trees- Trees are Valuable as Gold that's why they are called as "Green Gold" on the Earth, Life is possible on the earth because of water, oxygen and trees and we cannot ignore that trees are source of oxygen and water on the earth. Human beings are the most intelligent species on the earth, so we should understand our responsibility towards the nature and start saving trees, the "Green Gold" of earthy.

Benefits of trees- Trees gives us Oxygen, absorb CO₂, removing and storing the carbon while releasing the oxygen back into the air. Trees stabilise the soil prevent flooding and soil erosion, absorbing thousands of litres of storm water, provide us materials for tools and shelter and give life to the world's wildlife. Trees save water by slowing down the water evaporation from ground through their shadow. Trees are natural water filter and play great role in preventing water pollution by allowing water to flow down to the earth below tree thus prevent rainwater to carry pollutants to the ocean. Trees have very less water requirement per year (400 trees need approximately 40,000 gallons of rainwater).

Trees grow economy, it attracted people to live, work and invest in green surroundings. Research shows that average house prices are 5-18% higher when properties are close to mature trees. Companies benefit from a healthier, happier workforce if there are parks and trees nearby. Many people are dependent on the tree for their survival economically.

cannot plan and think beyond the instructions that are fed into their system. Technology alone is not enough for progress and prosperity. Management is required, and management is a human act. Technology is largely dependent on human intervention.

Computers and smartphones have led to an increase in social isolation. Young children are spending more time surfing the internet, playing games, and ignoring their real lives. Usage of technology is also resulting in job losses and distracting students from learning. Technology has been a reason for the and production of weapons of destruction.

Dependency on technology is also increasing privacy concerns and cyber crimes, giving way to hackers.

Conclusion- Modern technology allows machines to become more and more complex, and manual-control tasks can mostly be automated. Modern airplanes are popular examples of this. There is a certain irony in such automation which should not be overlooked.

It is important to know how to use it., principally, for those who are new in the new era and do not now anything about technology, primarily, adult people because they do not grew up with the mology, like kids in the present, they do.

Technology is a very big and complicated topic to talk about and to learn about It, because it is very extensive, For this reason, to learn how to use it requires intelligence, Computers and intelligent phones have many useful functions that can make our lives, easier and in seconds. Above all, first of all, we should know how to do this, because it is kind of different do the things on the real life and in the technological life.

People who know how to use technology in a 100%, like kids in the present who grew up with this, should teach to another people to know how to use it with responsibility and knowledge. As a result of this, people who do not know how to use technology wilt have the same opportunities than the other ones.

Q.6. Picture Guided Composition

1. On the basis of the picture given below, describe how we can keep ourselves fit and healthy.

1. Ans. Health is wealth. If a person is not healthy, then he can not enjoy the wealth. So a person has look after his health to remain active and energetic.

2. If a person is not healthy then he cannot achieve success in any field of life as he will not be able to put in his best efforts. To achieve something in life a person has to work hard and a weak and ailing person cannot devote his time and energy to work. A weak body is not able to build resistance against diseases and so easily catches harmful infections.

On the other side a healthy person is able to bear hard work and is ready to face the difficult tasks of life. A healthy person by working hard is able to earn wealth and fame. His labour is fruitfully rewarded. A person can remain healthy by having good eating habits and regular exercise. A healthy diet is very essential for healthy mind and body. A person should take in lots of green vegetables and right mix of nutrients to make body strong and active. The healthy consumption of food also requires good digestion which comes through good exercise.

The good exercise keep mind and body fit. An exercise may be in the form of morning walk, jogging, swimming, cycling or any other form. but regular exercise is a must for the well being of an individual. In India people are not interested in exercise especially the morning walk which gives us double benefit. The morning walk gives our body fresh air to keep us fit and is a very good exercise also.

It is our duty to take care of our health so that we can work hard, move towards prosperity of ourselves, our family and our nation.
